GUILD-HALL SUBSCRIPTION.

ON the 27th of November, 1745, a SUBSCRIPTION was begun at Guild-Hall, London, by Sir Richard Hoare, then Lord Mayor, several of the Aldermen, and other eminent Merchants and Inhabitants of the City; the Preamble to which was as follows,

“ WE whose Names are underwritten, in Commiseration of the “ particular Hardships and Inconveniencies which may be “ suffer'd by such Soldiers as now are, or shall hereafter be employ'd “ in his Majesty's Service during the Winter Season, towards the “ Suppression of the present unnatural Rebellion, do hereby volun“ tarily Subscribe and pay the several Sums set by us against our “ respective Names to be applied towards their RELIEF, SUPPORT,
“ and ENCOURAGEMENT, in such Manner, and in such Proportion, as “ shall be deem'd to be most necessary and expedient by a Committee “ which shall hereafter be appointed for that Purpose by Us, or the “ Major Part who shall be present at any general Meeting, pursuant “ to an Advertisement in the London Gazette.

Guild-Hall, London, Dec. 10, 1745.

AT a general Meeting of the SUBSCRIBERS, in pursuance of Notice in the London Gazette, for the Choice of a Committee for making a Distribution of the Money, agreeable to the Preamble of the said Subscription, it was unanimously resolved and Agreed.

1. THAT the Right Honourable Sir Richard Hoare, Knt. Lord Mayor of the City of London be of the Committee.
2. THAT the Rt. Honourable the Lord Chief Justice; the Rt. Hon. the Master of the Rolls; the Rt. Hon. the Lord Chief Justice Willes; the Rt. Hon. the Lord Chief Baron Parker, and the rest of the Honourable Judges be of the Committee.
3. THAT all the Aldermen who had or should contribute to the aforesaid SUBSCRIPTION be of the Committee.
4. THAT Sir John Bosworth, Knt. Chamberlain of the City of London, be of the Committee.

5. THAT

3. THAT the Master or Prime Warden of every Company that had or should Subscribe 100 l. or upwards be of the Committee.
6. THAT the Deputy of every Ward that had, or should Subscribe 100 l. or upwards be of the Committee.
7. THAT Philip Carteret Webb Esq; Messrs. John Payne, Jun. Samuel Smith, Jasper Mauduir, William Hollier, John Hyde, and Samuel Chambers be of the Committee.
8. THAT every Person who in his own Name, or in the Names of himself or others, had or should Subscribe 100 l. or upwards, be of the Committee.
9. THAT the Committee sit at Guild-Hall for the dispatch of Business, and that any five constitute a Quorum, and have Power to adjourn.
10. THAT such Committee from Time to Time consisting of not less than five Members, have Power to draw on Sir John Bosworth, Chamberlain of London, for such Monies as may be necessary to answer the Purposes for which the SUBSCRIPTION was intended.
11. THAT the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor do communicate these Proceedings to his ROYAL HIGHNESS the DUKE, and to Marshal Wade, and desire their Opinions how the SUBSCRIPTION Money may be best applied for the RELIEF, SUPPORT and ENCOURAGEMENT of the Soldiers, and for the Benefit of the Service.
12. THAT Thanks be returned to the Rt. Honourable the Lord Mayor for having begun and so zealously promoted this useful and laudable UNDERTAKING.

THE COMMITTEE thus appointed made the following Report of their Proceedings to a General Meeting of the Subscribers at Guild-Hall, London, January 28, 1747.

COMMITTEE.

THE Committee appointed for making a Distribution of the Money subscribed at Guild-Hall for the RELIEF SUPPORT and ENCOURAGEMENT of the Soldiers employ'd in suppressing the late unnatural Rebellion, are, in the first Place to inform you, that the Total of this Subscription, accompanied with the actual and immediate Payment of the Money subscribed, amounted to the Sum of 18,910 l. 0 s. 9 d. and that it may appear by what liberal Contributions of Individuals and Societies, Publick Bodies and noble Personages this Undertaking has been honoured and encouraged, a List of the Names of the Subscribers with the Sums subscribed, is annex'd in the Appendix No. I.

IN order to point out the Occasion of this Subscription, your Committee cannot help taking Notice, that the late Rebellion in Favour of a Popish Pretender, had in its Beginning met with such unexpected Success in the North, as to prompt those who had been unhappily deluded into it, to make a near Approach to this Metropolis; to oppose whom, one Part of his Majesty's Forces under the

of his Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland, and another Part under the Command of his Excellency Marshal Wade, had then taken the Field, exposed to the Difficulties of a Winter's Campaign, and all the Inclemencies of a rigorous Season: At such a Juncture this Subscription was begun, first, towards the RELIEF of the Soldiers in Case of Sickness, or of being maim'd and wounded; next, towards their SUPPORT under the Fatigue of so much extraordinary Duty; and lastly, towards their ENCOURAGEMENT in rewarding their Bravery or other signal Acts of Service; and your Committee have been careful to apply the several Sums of Money left to their Distribution in such Manner and Proportions as might best answer each of these distinct and separate Purposes.

To which End, it being thought proper to receive the Opinion of the Commanding Officer, Sir Richard Hoare, then Lord Mayor and Chairman to the Committee, in pursuance of the Resolutions of the General Meeting, acquainted his Royal Highness the Duke, by a Letter, with the Design of the Subscription, and that the greatest Regard would be paid to his Royal Highness's Recommendation; his Lordship at the same Time wrote another Letter of the like Import to Marshal Wade; and within a few Days was honoured with an Answer from the Duke, dated at Wigan, 14 December 1745, intimating that, "His Royal Highness receiv'd, with the greatest Satisfaction, that Notice of the good Affection of his Lordship, and those other eminent Citizens who had joined with him in that good Work, so seasonably express'd in their generous Concern for the poor Soldiers; and that his Royal Highness recommended Shoes, Stockings, Caps, Breeches and Linnen, as being of most immediate Use, and of easy Conveyance."---And by an Answer received from Marshal Wade, dated at Rippon, December 15, 1745, his Excellency concurred in the like Thanks and Recommendations.

AGREEABLE to the Purport of these Letters your Committee contracted for Sixteen Thousand Five Hundred Pair of Stockings, Fifteen Thousand Pair of Breeches, Twelve Thousand Shirts, and Ten Thousand Woollen Caps. And as an additional SUPPORT ordered One Thousand Blankets, Twelve Thousand Pair of Woollen Gloves, and Nine Thousand One Hundred Pair of Woollen Ankle-Spatterdashers: But being apprized that his Majesty intended, at his own Expence, to supply the Soldiers with a sufficient Quantity of Shoes, they deem'd it unnecessary and improper to interfere in what his Majesty had been most graciously pleased to make the immediate Object of his own Royal Bounty.

THE Committee assure you that the utmost Care was taken in contracting for these several Articles, both as to their Price and Quality, Part of which were to be provided in or near London, and Part, particularly the Gloves and Stockings, in Westmoreland, and other Counties in the North; and it was a great Satisfaction to them to find that by thus exerting their Endeavours to assist the Soldiers, they procured Means of Employment to the poor and industrious Manufacturers, at a Time when our common Enemies were using every Art and Contrivance to destroy both our Trade and our Credit. And in Justice to the principal Contractors for supplying these Necessaries, it must be mentioned, that many of them were contented with the prime Cost only, and all were punctual and expeditious in the performance of their Engagements.

THESE several Contracts, containing a Description of the Sizes, Patterns and Prizes of each Species of Goods, are set forth in the Appendix No. II. whereby you will be enabled to judge of the Care and Oeconomy observed in the Purchase of what were recommended to be so useful and necessary: And a Sub-Committee was appointed to examine and compare the Goods with the Samples, and to take Care of the Shipping and Conveyance of them to the several Parts to which they were to be destined.

BESIDES what was thus agreed upon for the immediate SUPPORT of the Soldiers, your Committee came to a Resolution that the Sum of 5000 l. should be set apart, to be distributed amongst such as should happen to be maimed or wounded, which was intended as an ENCOURAGEMENT to them to act bravely, as well as for their RELIEF in case they suffer'd by so doing.

BUT during the Time that the Necessaries thus contracted for were preparing, and the Committee employed in consulting upon the most proper Means of their being convey'd; Part of the Forces under the Command of his Royal Highness the Duke, animated by so brave and gallant a Leader; having, with the greatest Activity and Bravery, pursued the Rebels to the Borders of Scotland, returned back from thence just as the Supplies were ready, which were intended to support them in their March thither. Whereupon your Committee determined that what was before design'd for their SUPPORT, should now be immediately distributed among them as a REWARD for such signal Services.--Accordingly, as many of the Necessaries as were then provided, provided, were disposed of to the following marching Regiments, namely, Sowle's, Shelton's, Howard's, Douglass's, Johnson's and Handasyde's, and to such of the first, second and third Regiments of Guards who had been draughted out, and were returned from the North with his Royal Highness. And your Committee being further informed, that there were upwards of Five Hundred of the Regiments of Guards who went by Permission as Volunteers with the Duke, out of the Course of their Duty, the like Number of the Necessaries then finished, were delivered to each of them, and Three Hundred and Ninety Shirts to the like Number of Soldiers belonging to marching Regiments, who in the same Manner had set out as Volunteers upon that Expedition.

THESE Distributions being made to REWARD the Bravery of such Soldiers as had happily escaped the Dangers they were exposed to, your Committee were not unmindful of the other Design of this Subscription, in affording RELIEF to such as had been Sufferers: For the doing of which an Opportunity offer'd, which they cheerfully embraced, as it was intimated to them by a Letter from Sir John Ligonier, "That his Royal Highness the Duke had determined to erect an Hospital for such Soldiers as had suffered in the Rebellion, and had commanded him to apply to the Committee for some Help out of this Subscription." Whereupon they ordered that the Sum of Three Hundred Pounds, Part of the Sum of Five Thousand Pounds appropriated for the Benefit of the Maimed and Wounded, should be applied as General Ligonier should direct; which Sum was, according to his Desire, paid to the Right Honourable Stephen Poyntz, Esq; who on that Occasion was pleased to express the Sentiments of his Royal Highness the Duke, by the following Letter to the Lord Mayor.

"MY LORD,

"I have received his Royal Highness the Duke's Commands to repeat his Thanks to your Lordship, and the Gentlemen of the Guild-Hall Committee, for the numerous Instances of Support and Encouragement convey'd by their Canal to the Army under his Command; particularly for the liberal Contribution which they have appropriated to the good Purposes of the Hospital which he has lately opened for sick and wounded Soldiers: His Royal Highness is sensible how much he owes to your Lordship's Recommendation and Assistance, in helping these good Works forward;

"and

“ and such distinguished Marks of Zeal for his Majesty and Regard
 “ to himself, have made so deep an Impression on his own Mind, as “ cannot fail to spread itself through an Army acting under his imme“ diate Influence and Example, which must prove a fresh Incite-
 “ ment to them to exert themselves to the utmost in the impor“ tant Cause in which they are engaged, by labouring to answer
 “ the Expectations of their Benefactors, and to preserve the fa“ vourable Opinion of so respectable a Part of the Nation as the “ City of London. I beg Leave to lay hold of this Opportunity of “ assuring your Lordship of the particular Respect with which I have “ the Honour to be,

“ MY LORD,

“ Your Lordship's

St. James's House,
 March 18, 1745.

“ Most humble and “ Most obedient Servant,

“ STEPHEN POYNTZ.”

IT being also represented by Sir John Ligonier that One Hundred and Fifty Soldiers, who had been maimed and wounded at the Action of Preston-Pans, were arrived in Town, your Committee not only order'd them a Supply of some of the common Wearing-Apparel, but gave to each of them a Gratuity in Money.

THUS far the Committee have laid before you an Account of the Distributions that have been made in or near London; they are next to acquaint you of the Services they were capable of performing to the Soldiers that were quartered in and about Newcastle, where many of them being sick, the Sum of 300 l. was remitted to the Mayor of that Place, to be employed in such Manner as might be most conducive to their RELIEF according to the Directions of their General Officers, and One Thousand Pair of Woollen Stockings, with One Thousand Woollen Caps, were likewise conveyed thither, and disposed of amongst those that stood most in Need of such Necessaries.

THE Committee now beg leave to inform you in what Manner they have extended their Endeavours to SUPPORT those Soldiers who after the Fatigue of a Summer's Campaign Abroad, were marching in the depth of Winter into the most Northern Parts of Scotland; to whose Service they applied their utmost Care and Attention; and his Royal Highness the Duke having been pleased to recommend that Nine Thousand of each Species of the abovementioned Wearing Necessaries should be sent after them, Orders were given for Nine Thousand Pair of Breeches, Nine Thousand Shirts, Nine Thousand Woollen Ankle Spatterdashies, and Eight Thousand Nine Hundred Woollen Caps, with One Thousand Blankets, to be shipp'd by Sea from London to Leith; and for Nine Thousand Pair of Stockings, and Ten Thousand Pair of Woollen Gloves to be conveyed by Land from Westmoreland to Edinburgh, and to be directed to Lieutenant General Hawley, the then commanding Officer in Scotland.

FOR the better and more safe Conveyance of what were to be sent by Sea, your Committee contracted for the Hire of a Ship of proper Force, to proceed directly from London to Leith, under a Convoy, which the Lords of the Admiralty, upon Application, had been pleased to order; and an Agent was appointed to go on Board the Vessel and dispose of the Goods at Edinburgh, or elsewhere, according to such Directions as he should receive from hence; and Instructions having been prepared for his Behaviour, Bonds were executed, both by him and his Sureties, for his Fidelity and due Observance of the same.

ABOUT this Time News arrived at London of the Action at Falkirk, which made it necessary that his Royal Highness the Duke should again appear at the Head of his Majesty's Forces. Whereupon your Committee with a View further to animate and encourage the Soldiers, immediately came to the following Resolution,

“ THAT the further Sum of 5000 l. Part of the Subscription-Money already raised, should be set apart to be distributed in REWARDS amongst such private Soldiers and Non-commission'd-Officers, who should by their Bravery and Courage distinguish themselves in suppressing the Rebellion, and whose Behaviour should be represented by their General Officers to merit the same.

It was agreed at the same Time, “ that 500 l. Part of the 5000 l. intended to be distributed to such Soldiers who should be maim'd or wounded in suppressing the Rebellion, should be remitted to the Commander in Chief of his Majesty's Forces in Scotland, for the RELIEF of such Soldiers as were Sufferers in the Action at Falkirk.”

THE Duke having set out for Scotland the Day after these Resolutions had been agreed to, they were transmitted to him by the Lord Mayor at the Request of the Committee, in order that the Soldiers might, as early as possible, be appriz'd of the REWARDS that would attend the performance of their Duty. And his Royal Highness, by an Answer from Perth, dated February 15, 1745. returned his Thanks to the Committee for thus offering what he was pleased to stile a liberal and beneficial Method of Encouragement. But the Committee being afterwards informed that the Number of Maimed and Wounded at Falkirk had not been so great as at first represented, they remitted only the Sum of 300 l. which was distributed in the most useful Manner amongst such of the poor Sufferers as were entitled to that Relief.

THE Stores and Necessaries sent to Scotland arrived at the Army on the 26th of March, 1746. and your Committee cannot but take Notice of the great Condescension of his Royal Highness the Duke, in the obliging Manner of his acknowledging the Reception of them by the following Letter to the Lord Mayor.

Aberdeen, March 26, 1746.

“ MY LORD MAYOR,

“ As I have just receiv'd from Edinburgh the Stores for the “ Army, furnish'd by the Liberality of the Subscribers, I cannot “ help letting you know how seasonable and acceptable this Supply
 “ is in the present bad Condition of the Cloathing in general, from
 “ the extraordinary Fatigues of this Winter Campaign, which the “ Soldiers have gone through with the greatest Chearfulness and “ Alacrity imaginable. They are informed to whom they stand “ indebted for this Relief, for which they are very thankful, and “ will, I am sure, by their Behaviour, shew themselves not un“ worthy of it.---For my own Part, I desire you would accept “ my hearty Thanks also for the great Pains you have taken in “ promoting this Affair, as well by your Example as by your “ Countenance, and that you would assure of the same all those “ who have taken any Part in it. Besides the real Kindness to the “ poor Men, there has appeared in the whole Direction of this “ Business, such Marks of Regard for me, as I cannot forbear to “ take Notice of, and of which I shall always retain a just Sense.
 “ I hope you will believe I am sincerely your very affectionate “ Friend,

THESE

THESE NECESSARIES were immediately distributed amongst the Soldiers, and received with all the Marks of Thanks and Gratitude, and greatly facilitated their March from Aberdeen to Culloden Field, where on the 16th of April following they gained that compleat and ever memorable Victory which put a happy Period to the Rebellion.

YOUR COMMITTEE having met upon this joyful News came to the following Resolutions, " THAT the Lord Mayor should write " to his Royal Highness the Duke to congratulate him on the " Success of his Majesty's Arms against the Rebels, and to inform " his Royal Highness that the Committee desired he would be pleased " to apply the Whole, or such Part of the 5000 l. which had been " appropriated for REWARDS, as he should think proper; and that " they would either remit the same to Scotland, or order it to be paid " here, as his Royal Highness should direct.

" AND that the Lord Mayor at the same Time should " acquaint his Royal Highness that the Sum remaining unapplied " of the 5000 l. appropriated for the RELIEF of the maimed " and wounded Soldiers, was ready to be distributed according " to the Intention of that Resolution; and that they desired " his Royal Highness would be pleased to inform them what Part " thereof might be necessary to apply immediately for those Pur- " poses."

THE Lord Mayor accordingly transmitted a Copy of these Resolutions to his Royal Highness the Duke with a Letter of Congratulation in the Name of the Committee, " expressing their Joy " and Satisfaction upon such an Event, as happy to this Na- " tion as it was glorious to his Royal Highness; and for which " they presumed from the Concern which his Royal Highness had so " constantly express'd on Behalf of the private Soldiers, that their " paying a Regard to them was the best Compliment they could pay " to himself."

HIS Royal Highness was pleas'd soon after to return an Answer to this, which the Committee cannot forbear doing themselves the Honour of communicating to you as Part of their Report.

Inverness,

WILLIAM

PRINT

Inverness the 21st of May, 1746.

“ MY LORD MAYOR,

“ I am very much obliged to you and the Committee for your “ Congratulations and kind Wishes, and feel the highest Satisfaction
“ in the favourable Reception my Endeavours in the King's Ser“ vice meet with : My good Intentions will, I hope, preserve to me
“ yours and their good Opinion.

“ I herewith send you a propos'd Distribution of a Part of the “ 5000*l.* intended by the Committee as a Reward for the Non-“ commissioned Officers and Soldiers of this Army. The Re“ mainder of that Sum is proposed to be distributed in Recompence
“ of distinguished Acts of Bravery, and of Hurts received in the “ Action ; and amongst such of the Non-commissioned Officers and “ Soldiers as were out upon Parties, or were left sick by the Way.
“ These have equally undergone the Fatigues of the Service, and “ shew'd the same good Dispositions to share the Danger of it,
“ and were only distinguished from their Companions by the com“ mon Course of the Service and Accidents they were all equally “ liable to. If this proposed Distribution is approved, I desire
“ you will direct the Remittance of the Money to Anthony Sawyer, “ Esq. Deputy Pay-Master of the King's Forces at Edinburgh, and “ it shall be forthwith put in Execution.

“ AMONGST such as have merited, I can't help having Attention
“ to their particular Wants, and this leads me to the Mention of “ the Subaltern Officers, upon whom this Service has been par“ ticularly hard, by the extraordinary Wear and Consumption of “ their Apparel and necessary Equipage ; if therefore any Part of “ the Remainder of the other Five Thousand Pounds could be “ applied to their Relief, it would be of great Use, and I am per“ suaded fully Answer the generous Intentions of the Subscribers.

“ I Return you my hearty Thanks for the obliging Manner in “ which you have gone through your Part in this good Work, and
“ for the particular Regard shewn to me in the whole Course
“ of it,

I am your very affectionate Friend,

WILLIAM.”

UPON this Recommendation your Committee came to the following Resolutions. That the 5000 l. Rewards mentioned in his "Royal Highness's Letter, be remitted to Scotland, for the Uses therein "proposed, and that 1000 l. Part of the unappropriated Monies be "remitted at the same Time to be applied as his Royal Highness "should direct among the Subaltern Officers. And that a "Draught should be made on the Chamberlain for 6000 l. payable "to the Lord Mayor, to answer the before-mention'd Purposes." With which Resolutions the Lord Mayor acquainted his Royal Highness by the following Letter.

"May it please your ROYAL HIGHNESS,

"UPON the Receipt of your Letter from Inverness I immediately communicated to the Committee the Manner in which your "Royal Highness designs to divide the Rewards amongst the Soldiers under your Command, and I am to return you our most "sincere Thanks for proposing so just and equitable a Distribution. The Concern your Royal Highness has at the same "Time been pleased to express for the Subaltern Officers, is "another Instance of that Benevolence which is ever inseparable "from true Bravery. It is therefore with Pleasure I am to "acquaint you with the Resolution of the Committee for the "immediate Remittance of 5000 l. for the former Purposes, "together with a further Sum of 1000 l. for your Royal "Highness to dispose of amongst the Subaltern Officers in any "Manner you may think most proper. I have accordingly sent "to the Bank of Scotland for their Permission for me to pay these "several Sums into the Bank of England, upon their Account, subject to an Order for them to pay the same to Anthony Sawyer, Esq. "Deputy Pay-Master of his Majesty's Forces, according to your "Royal Highness's Directions. Whatever Services I have been able to "perform upon this Occasion, I consider only as Part of my Duty to "to my King and Country, and if I have given any Satisfaction "therein I shall esteem it as the highest Honour I can presume to "deserve.

"I am, May it please your Royal Highness,

"Your ROYAL HIGHNESS's

Goldsmith's-Hall,
June 3, 1746.

"Most obliged, and

"Most obedient humble Servant,

RICHARD HOARE."

THE proposed Distribution of Rewards transmitted by the Duke as above, after reserving 1000 l. to be given away to separate Parties, and for distinguished Acts of Bravery, was to apportion the remaining Sum of 4000 l. equally amongst all the Regiments engaged at Culloden, agreeable to the Scheme annexed in the Appendix No. 3. containing a List of the Regiments, the Number of Men upon the Spot; and the Sums allowed to each: Which his Royal Highness by another Letter to the Lord Mayor, dated at Fort-Augustus, June 25, 1746. was pleased to signify had been accordingly divided, and the Soldiers informed to whom they were obliged for such Liberality.

HIS Royal Highness the Duke soon after return'd to St. James's, leaving the Right Honourable the Earl of Albemarle Commander in Chief of his Majesty's Forces in Scotland: And no more Applications being made for any further Distribution of the Necessaries then in London, the Committee came to a Resolution to send them into Scotland for the Use of the Soldiers who were to remain there the succeeding Winter, allowing a Preference to the most infirm; And the Lord Mayor was desired to give Directions for that Purpose, and to obtain a List of the Needy Widows and Orphans of the Officers and Soldiers killed at the Battles of Falkirk and Culloden.

ACCORDINGLY One Thousand Nine Hundred and Forty Shirts, Two Hundred and Eighteen Pair of Breeches, and Seven Hundred and Twenty Two Pair of Stockings, being the Remainder of such Necessaries undisposed of here, were shipp'd to Edinburgh, and an Account thereof was sent to the Earl of Albemarle, who soon after acknowledged the same, expressing his Thanks to the Subscribers, with Assurance that they should be disposed of in such Manner as might best answer their Intentions: And at the same Time his Lordship transmitted a List, as desired, of the Needy Widows and Orphans of the Officers and Soldiers who had been killed at the Battles of Falkirk and Culloden.

THE Committee could not help extending this RELIEF to the Widows and Orphans of those who had lost their Lives in the Defence of their Country, as the only Acknowledgment they could bestow in Recompence for their past Bravery, and therefore spared no Pains, as well by personal Applications as by Letters and Advertisements in the Publick Papers, to find out the proper Objects to share that that Part of your Charity; and the Appendix No 4. will shew what Numbers, and who particularly have been relieved, being distinguished according to their several Degrees and Circumstances.

SOME other Donations in Money, and Distributions of small Parcels of the Necessaries, have, at different Times, been made to such Objects as came properly recommended either to be RELIEVED or REWARDED, which being of too minute Consideration to be inserted in the Body of this Report, are specify'd in the subsequent general Accounts.

Lastly, The Committee after having gratified their Secretary, Clerks, Messengers and Attendants, and examined the several Bills, Receipts and Vouchers, and paid all other contingent Expences, have set down in the Appendix, No. 5. the Particulars and Sum Total of all their Disbursements, amounting to the Sum of 15,557 l. 13 s. 1 d. which being deducted from the Sum Total of the Subscription, there remains a Ballance of 3352 l. 7 s. 8 d.

AT the same Time that the Committee submit this remaining Ballance to your Disposition, they take the Liberty in Justice to the several Hospitals in and about this City and to the General Hospital at Bath, of recommending them as Instances every Way deserving some Share of your Liberality; and to that Purpose hope for your Concurrence to allow the Sum of 1000 l. to St. Bartholomew's, the Sum of 1000 l. to St. Thomas's, and the Sum of 1000 l. to the Bath Hospital, as also the further Sum of 300 l. to be equally distributed between the Infirmaryes of London, Westminster, and Hyde-Park Corner, for the Assistance which they have so constantly and readily afforded to Numbers of Soldiers who had been Sufferers by the late Rebellion; to whose RELIEF a larger Share out of this Contribution must otherwise have been applied. And your Committee are the more induced to be thus liberal to the Bath Hospital, not only on Account of the peculiar Efficacy of the Waters of that Place in recovering maim'd and wounded Soldiers; but also with Regard that his ROYAL HIGHNESS the PRINCE of WALES, who has been pleased to honour this Subscription with his Royal Munificence, is the PATRON and PRESIDENT of that charitable Foundation.

THIS Distribution being agreed to, the remaining Ballance of 524 l. 7 s. 8 d. will be expended in the necessary Charges which will attend the closing of all the Accounts.

It

In this Manner your Committee propose that the Conclusion of this Subscription should be agreeable to the Design of its original Institution; since every Calamity you can remove, or every Comfort you can bestow on Behalf of the private Soldiers, will be giving them so much new Strength and Vigour to act in Defence of our Liberties, and Support of our Constitution; wherein both Interest and Duty, both publick Safety and publick Charity, may be jointly urged as Motives to your Benevolence. And as to what has already been expended, if RELIEF under Sickness, if SUPPORT under Fatigue, if ENCOURAGEMENT under Dangers are to be esteemed Acts of Humanity or Beneficence, by how much stronger Ties were we called upon to return such Assistance to those who under the greatest Hazards and Difficulties were protecting us in the Enjoyment of every Thing that was dear and valuable: And your Committee flatter themselves that the Zeal which was exerted on this Occasion, by the Magistrates, Merchants, and other Inhabitants of this Metropolis, contributed no less to dispirit the Enemy, than it did to animate our own Forces, until they obtained that compleat Victory over the Rebels, which so happily preserved the Religion, Laws and Liberties of this Kingdom, the inseparable Blessings of his Majesty's Government.

GUILD-HALL, LONDON.

Thursday, Jan. the 28th, 1747.

At a general Meeting of the SUBSCRIBERS,

The Report from the Committee being read, it was unanimously resolved,

1. THAT the general Meeting do agree with the Committee in distributing the remaining Ballance of this Subscription, in the Manner recommended by their Report.
2. THAT the Thanks of this general Meeting be given to the Members of the Committee, and to Sir Richard Hoare their Chairman in particular, for the great Care and Pains they have exerted in the Management of their Trust, and the frugal and proper Disposition they have made of the Money raised by this Subscription.
3. THAT the Report with the Appendixes be printed and a Copy thereof delivered to every SUBSCRIBER.
